In this event, among our distinguished list of guests, had participated from all over the world the prominent figures from all fields of sports. It was one of the rarest occasions, where the west met the east to calibrate an aspect of sports that has proven to be essential to its development and sustainability as a vital and essential part for the nations in addition to the fact that it has been used as a tool to promote peace all over the world.

This memorable event had an immense impact on the sports law world.
